These we remember

We are grateful not to have lost any Holocaust survivors this year.

Never Shall I Forget
Elie Wiesel

Never shall I forget that night, the first night in the camp
which has turned my life into one long night, seven times cursed and seven times sealed.

Never shall I forget that smoke.
Never shall I forget the little faces of the children whose bodies I saw turned into wreaths of smoke beneath a silent blue sky.

Never shall I forget those flames which consumed my faith for ever.
Never shall I forget that nocturnal silence which deprived me for all eternity of the desire to live.
Never shall I forget those moments which murdered my God and my soul and turned my dreams to dust.

Never shall I forget these things, even if I am condemned to live as long as God Himself

Never.

Holding On and Letting Go Mourning
Harold M. Schulweis

Hold on and let go.
On the surface of things contradictory counsel.
But one does not negate the other.
The two are complementary, dialectical two sides of one coin.

Hold on -- death is not the final word
The grave no oblivion.
Hold on in Kaddish, Yahrzeit, Yizkor.
No gesture, no kindness, no smile evaporates - Every kindness, every embrace has its afterlife
in our minds, our hearts, our hands.

Hold on and let go
Sever the fringes of the tallit of the deceased the knot that binds us to the past.

Hold on
Not enslaving memory that sells the future to the past
nor recollection that makes us passive, listless, resigned.
But memory that releases us for a new life.

Return the dust to the earth not to bury hope
but to resurrect the will to live.

Artists, aerialists
on a swinging trapeze letting go one ring to catch another to climb to higher heights.

Contd.

Hold on and let go.
A courageous duality that endows our life
with meaning.
Neither denying the past nor foreclosing the future.

The flow of life
the divine process
gives and takes retains and creates.

Old and new yesterday and tomorrow
both in one embrace.
The Lord giveth
and the Lord taketh Blessed be the name of the Lord.

Memento

Susanne M. Batzdorff

In Auschwitz you walked Remembering the millions
Who here stopped walking,
Speaking, breathing,
Long ago.

You stooped to pick
Some wildflowers,
Astonished that anything
Could live here
Anymore.

You pressed the tendrils of green,
The blue and yellow flowers,
And carried them
Home in your vest pocket.
In silence.

I thank you sincerely
For your gift
Of remembrance,
Of wildflowers,
That grew in the streets
Of death.

Is it possible?
Can beauty live again
Here in these fields
Of unspeakable anguish
Never to be forgotten?

I had not thought
Of wildflowers in Auschwitz,
But then neither did Noah Conceive of a rainbow
After the flood
Had taken away
His world.
